WALDEN UNIVERSITY

Walden University 2018 Graduation

Walden University was founded in 1970 and is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC), which accredits degree-granting postsecondary educational institutions in the north central region of the United States. Walden enrolls more than 54,000 students in bachelors, master's, and doctoral degree programs and specialized certifications. The university offers degrees from bachelor's to doctoral level with cybersecurity specializations.

Walden's cyber defense programs have a dedicated online repository, where the university's official Cyber Center of Education has been established. The Cyber Center includes publications, presentations, and cybersecurity related content. The Cyber Center was established prior to Walden's first CAE-CD designation in 2013.

In 2013, Walden established a Doctor of Information Technology (DIT) program. Many doctoral graduates have published dissertation research in the field of cyber defense. Moreover, Walden faculty members have published numerous articles in peer-reviewed journals, such as IEEE and ACM publications, and they have also conducted presentations and participated in nationally recognized security conferences, including CISSE and NICE.

Walden is also committed to collaboration and supporting the business community nationwide, which includes workshops for high-schools, 2-year colleges, and small to medium-size businesses.
